

Name
Title
Teaching Term
Contact Information

Course Number and Title

Time and Place

Course Description

Office Hours

Requirements

Course Expectations, including a brief description of the assignments and approximate length

Readings

Description of readings and availability at the book store, on Canvas, etc.

Attendance

Description of attendance policy and expectations

Class Participation

Additional requirements outside of class time

Description of any meetings outside of class time, field trips, screenings, etc.

Evaluation

Description of general assessment measures and expectations, including assignments and a percentage-based breakdown of how each requirement will factor into the overall grade.

Academic Integrity

Statement on academic integrity. Please refer to the undergraduate regulations, <http://catalog.yale.edu/undergraduate-regulations/regulations/academic-dishonesty/>, and the Center for Teaching and Learning's website at <http://ctl.yale.edu/writing/using-sources> for additional information.

Students with Disabilities

Students requiring a disability-related accommodation or service should register with the Office of Student Accessibility Services (SAS), <https://sas.yale.edu/>, at the beginning of the term.

CLASS SCHEDULE

This should include a week-by-week break down of class topics, assigned readings (including page numbers) and assignment due dates. There are 13 weeks in a Yale term. Please refer to the Yale Academic Calendar, <https://yalecollege.yale.edu/academics/academic-calendar/2019-2020-academic-calendar>, and the Yale Calendar with Pertinent Deadlines, <http://catalog.yale.edu/ycps/calendar/>, for Additional Information.

Please note that all undergraduate work is due on the last day of final exams. This deadline cannot be extended by an instructor. Only a Residential College Dean has the authority to extend student work beyond the end of term.