

Spring 2021 Summaries

A first-year student charged with trespassing for entering the steam tunnels was reprimanded by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for failing to properly cite sources in three response papers was reprimanded by the committee.

A senior charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarism on a course assignment was reprimanded by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for sharing answers to two midterms with classmates was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarizing articles in two response papers was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for copying parts of a classmate's answers on a homework assignment was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for cheating on a final exam was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for copying an answer to an exam question from a classmate was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for improperly using parts of online solutions on two p-sets was reprimanded by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for improperly using parts of online solutions on two p-sets was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for copying part of a classmate's answer to one question on a quiz was reprimanded by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty by sharing her solution for one p-set with classmate was reprimanded.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for copying solutions on two p-sets was reprimanded by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for copying solutions on two p-sets was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for disregarding the regulations for the final exam was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for disregarding exam instructions was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for providing a classmate with the answer to one question on a quiz was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarizing parts of a solution on one p-set was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarizing parts of a solution on one p-set was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for disregarding the collaboration policies for the final exam was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating during two midterms was put on three terms of probation by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating during two midterms was put on three terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarizing on two p-sets was reprimanded by the committee.

A junior charged with trespassing was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was placed on two terms of probation by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating during two midterms was put on three terms of probation by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for sharing his answer to one question on a quiz with a classmate was reprimanded by the committee.

A senior charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating with a classmate on a take-home exam was put on one term of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for violating collaboration policies on an exam was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A senior charged with trespassing was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with trespassing in the Yale bowl was reprimanded by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarizing parts of a final paper was suspended for two terms.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for disregarding the collaboration policies for the final exam was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with improper collaboration on homework and midterm exam was placed on probation for three terms.

A first-year student charged with improper collaboration on homework and midterm exam was placed on probation for three terms.

A senior charged with academic dishonesty for failing to properly cite sources in a final essay was reprimanded by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty and misrepresentation was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for failure to properly cite sources in a final essay was reprimanded by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating during an exam was put on three terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was placed on two terms of probation by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for impermissibly collaborating on homework assignments was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for sharing an answer to a midterm exam was reprimanded by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for collaboration was reprimanded by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for copying a classmate's answers on p-sets and inappropriately collaborating on a final exam was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for sharing the solution to a homework assignment with a classmate was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for viewing source webpages during a final exam was put on one term of probation by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for improperly using online sources for one p-set was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for violating the collaboration policy on a final exam was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for copying answers to one p-set from the internet was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for improper collaboration was reprimanded by the committee.

A sophomore was charged with academic dishonesty for violating the collaboration policy on a final exam was reprimanded by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for impermissibly collaborating on homework assignments was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with trespassing for entering the steam tunnels was reprimanded by the committee.

A sophomore charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a midterm was put on three terms of probation by the committee.

A sophomore charged with trespassing was issued a reprimand by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for violating the collaboration policy on a final exam was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarizing on class assignments was put on three terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarism in a course paper was put on two terms of probation by the committee.

A senior charged with academic dishonesty for improperly collaborating on p-sets was reprimanded by the committee.

A senior charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarizing their final paper was put on four terms of probation by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty was reprimanded for copying code from a classmate.

A first-year student charged with defiance of authority for disregarding the instructions of a proctor during a midterm was put on one term of probation. The charge of academic dishonesty was dismissed.

A first-year student charged with trespassing for entering the steam tunnels was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with trespassing for entering the Yale Bowl at night was put on four terms of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was placed on one term of probation by the committee.

A senior charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating with a classmate on a take-home exam was put on one term of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was placed on one term of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for copying an online solution for one p-set and sharing code with a classmate was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was placed on one term of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for inappropriate use of online sources for one problem set was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was placed on one term of probation by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was placed on two terms of probation by the committee.

A senior charged with academic dishonesty for helping a classmate with one problem on a final exam was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarizing on a response paper was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty was reprimanded for using online resources to complete course work.

A senior charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarism was reprimanded by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for missing citations in a course paper was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with trespassing for entering the Yale Bowl at night was reprimanded by the committee.

A junior charged with academic dishonesty for plagiarizing part of a classmate's code on a midterm exam was reprimanded by the committee.

A first-year student charged with academic dishonesty for collaborating on a final exam was placed on one term of probation by the committee.